Hodie Christus Natus Est

Saturday 26 November 2022

A workshop for renaissance wind, brass & string players led by Tim Bayley of The York Waits, exploring 16th and 17th century polychoral Advent and Christmas Music from Germany and Italy.

The Christmas season has inspired some of the grandest and richest choral compositions, often written to explore the potential acoustic effects which were possible in the great churches and cathedrals of Italy, Germany and beyond. Our playing day will focus on seasonal repertoire in 8 to 24 parts by Michael and Hieronymus Praetorius, Bassano, Altenberg, Andrea and Giovanni Gabrieli, Scheidt, Trombetti, Merulo, Vulpius and others. We will spend the day exploring the possibilities for some exciting antiphonal effects in this glorious multi-choir repertoire with high and low, loud and quiet bands
The music is suitable for players of the cornet, sackbut, curtal, alto (or lower) shawm, recorder, flute, crumhorn, racket, as well as strings. Pitch A=440

Tim Bayley was a founder member of The York Waits and has spent many years performing music of the medieval and renaissance period on a variety of wind, string and keyboard instruments. He regularly leads playing day workshops for ensembles of all sizes, and also coaches on several residential courses.
